Inspecting Steam Boilers.

Steam Boiler Inspector John H. Wilkerson, during the past year inspected 272 boilers, condemned for repairs 6, and found 2 unfit for use.
He states that there were 31 new boilers erected, and that the District owns 3 boilers.
He recommends the passage of an act giving the inspectors full power to grant certificates rating the amount of steam pressure to be used.
The inspectors are displayed in some conspicuous part of the establishment, also a fine illustration of the importance of inspection, carrying more steam than the certificate calls for.

THE MISTAKES OF MOSES

Bear no sort of proportion to
THE MISTAKES OF CLOTHIERS.
While we manufacture a large part of our ready-made stock, we are ever ready to avail ourselves of the mistakes of our customers.

MANUFACTURING CLOTHIERS, whenever we offer you some important bargains this week.

OVERCOATS.

Our buyer found some of the principal makers in New York overstocked last week, owing, doubtless, to the continued mild weather, and the result IS HERE.

Two-thirds of the usual prices will be ours for the next week, and we have an exceptional character in these bargain purchases.
From $15 to $50.
This Lot Runs.
Fifty-dollars seems to be a high price paid for an Overcoat, and yet if an overcoat that white some want Overcoats for $10 (we have them) others want Overcoats for seventy-five, and when they can get $75 Overcoats for $30, they

COME TO US.

Our buyer did not confine his attention entirely to Overcoats, but picked up some
OTHER MISTAKES

In the shape of Suits for about 67 PER CENT OF value, and you get them in the

SAME RATIO.

When we characterize these productions as mistakes, we simply mean too many produced for early expectations.
Most of the goods made up North are intended for Western and Eastern consumption, and when there is a mild autumn and no re-orders coming in, the

NEW YORK MANUFACTURER

gets the blues, and we get the goods at our price, having waited the opportunity for a long time, and not had an over-production for the entire season, however, as the weather is so mild, we have about one-half of the goods they sold to clothing men, whereas there was a large deal of grumbling, but we prefer the latter are now better satisfied than if they had got them.

WE HAVE GOT THEM.

they cost.

SECOND REASON.

Because we have determined (in order to quickly introduce our new department) to sell for six months at a profit only just sufficient to meet expenses, and to honestly carry out such determination.
